Marc Skalla & Lauren Loef

GALLERY, sweet GALLERY

Residents of the building since September 2008, Marc Skalla and Lauren Loef moved into Gallery only months after they began hunting for their new home in Atlanta. “We looked at several high rise condos in Buckhead and Midtown before we made our decision,” Lauren said. “There was something special about Gallery; [it just] has everything we need to lead a simple and easy life.” Lauren, who is known for her impeccable taste in interior design (see her work at ww.laurenloef.com), also says that her little poodle, Chloe, loves life here too!

*Please join us in December, 10 am to 2 pm for Grand Gallery Saturdays
Open house, brunch & model home tours*

Introducing Previews

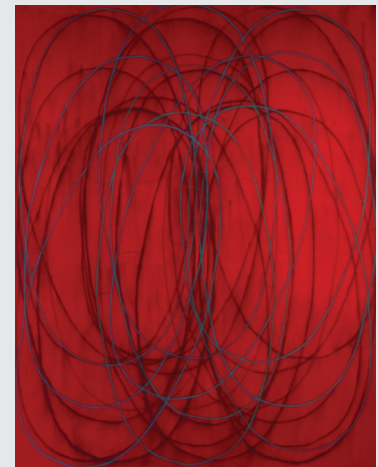

Coldwell Banker Previews would like to welcome their new sales team to Gallery Residences: Jill Grenuk, Andy Parzygnant, Sunny Williams and Clara Medina. Specializing exclusively in marketing fine properties nationally and internationally, the Previews luxury home marketing program handles an average of $85.5 million in luxury homesales every day. Through the Coldwell Banker Previews International program, we have the tools to assist in buying or selling luxury property while offering unmatched resources, impeccable client service, and a track record of distinction.

Tom & Patty Hodgson

Welcome Home, Hodgsons

New to Gallery, Tom & Patty Hodgson came from a large, single family home in Buckhead, just off Mt. Paran Road. Having both lived in Manhattan, they were excited about returning to high rise living. When asked about their favorite aspect of their new luxury home, Mr. Hodgson replied, "The Concierge Desk is head and shoulders above other buildings. I am impressed, my guests are impressed and my wife, who goes into other buildings for her decorating business at Savvy Snoot almost daily (www.savvysnoot.com), is astounded by the professionalism here." Welcome home, Hodgsons. Welcome home.
